

governments of the various states of the two continents were concerned about this fact